

ALLCOT is an international company developing environmental and corporate sustainability projects; it manages greenhouse gas reduction initiatives in local and emerging markets in Colombia, Spain and Mexico, under a process approach, aimed at increasing customer satisfaction, protecting the environment, preventing pollution and maintaining zero tolerance to acts of bribery. ALLCOT is committed to compliance with applicable regulations and continuous improvement of its Management System, under the guidelines of ISO 9001, 14001 and 37001 with a risk management approach to be sustainable over time.

Through good environmental practices, ALLCOT makes efficient use of resources in its activities, to mitigate the environmental impact the company generates.

ALLCOT ensures the welfare of shareholders, employees, suppliers and other stakeholders of the organization: the organization facilitates the management of their complaints of good faith or reasonable suspicion of bribery, through the ethics committee and its compliance officer, who have complete independence, and ensures the protection of their anonymity and that no retaliation occurs.

Non-compliance with this policy by any employee will result in sanctions, in accordance with current legislation, always guaranteeing due diligence at all stages.
